Ferry Is Guilty In First Degree

Found Guilty After Trial Of "Hatchet Slaying" Of His Wife

CRIME OCCURRED DURING LAST MAY

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Found guilty of murder in the first degree, Paul Ferry, former McKees Rocks WPA worker, today faced death in the electric chair for the "hatchet slaying" of his wife, Mary, last May 7.

Roused from a sound sleep in the county prison here, Ferry, displayed no emotion when informed the jury of nine men and three women had decided his fate after two hours and five minutes deliberation.

Returning to the verdict had been announced, Ferry remarked to Sheriff Harry Darling:

"Well, it's a good night to sleep." The convicted killer's three children, Mary, 19; Anna, 14, and Paul, Jr., 16, whose testimony District Attorney Mortimer E. Graham used into a net of damaging circumstances, proof of Ferry's guilt, were not present when the verdict was read.

Denies Crime
Late yesterday, Ferry took the stand in his own defense and denied that he had committed the crime. Defense attorneys William Carney and John Blackmore attempted to show Ferry was a habitual drunkard and because of his liquor-befogged mind was unable to comprehend the seriousness of the crime.

Alleging trial errors, the defense attorneys announced they would seek a new trial for Ferry.

Mrs. Ferry's body was found by her son, Paul, Jr., buried beneath a woodpile in the cellar of their home. The youth testified during the trial that he heard his father sneak out of the cellar a short time before.

Taking the stand for the commonwealth the other children testified their father was always drunk and often threatened their mother.

FARM BELT TO HEAR LANDON

In Minneapolis September 24, and in Milwaukee September 26. All three will be delivered at night and broadcast to the nation.

Happy To Speak In Mid-West
In announcing he had accepted these speaking engagements, Landon said:

"I am happy to accept invitations to speak at Des Moines, Minneapolis and Milwaukee and to visit with my fellow citizens in the agricultural middle west and lake states."

"The present stop-gap policies of this administration need to be replaced by a dependable, permanent program that will give farming the equality it deserves. The Republican party has such a program.

"Droughts and floods have made imperative a proper federal-state water and soil conservation program, so far neglected by the present administration. A well-worked out land use program has become a necessity."

"I shall have something to say on these as well as other subjects." Landon will discuss the farm problem at Des Moines. He will speak on the administration's reciprocal trade treaty policies at Minneapolis and he will discuss security at Milwaukee.

Aside from these major addresses, he will make scores of "back porch" talks from his special train in cities all along the way. He will spend most of September 23 in Des Moines, conferring with leaders, and following his Minneapolis address, will cross to St. Paul to confer with leaders there the next day.

On Sunday, September 27, he will go to the farm home of former Governor Frank O. Lowden, near Oregon, Ill., to be an overnight guest. He will return to Topeka the following day.

PAVING QUESTION IS AGAIN BEFORE SCHOOL BOARD

money to pay for more than the intersections. The program suggested by the WPA would have cost the board considerable money and we had to refuse to go along."

"Does the property owner pay for the school share?" asked Whittaker. "No," said Duff, "the city pays for it."

Said McIlvenny "after all the taxpayer pays for it in the end and it seems to me we should do something about paying some of the school streets. With the cost down through WPA projects we would be saving some money, for the streets should be paved and probably will be some time."

"We would be establishing a precedent," said Duff, "if the board, Whittaker merely asking for information."

BANDITS ESCAPE IN BATTLE WITH POLICE OFFICERS

place. With drawn pistols they surrounded the gangsters' car and cornered two of the bandits.

Apparently unaware of the fact that two other gunmen were still in Semigel's establishment, the policemen were ordering their two prisoners from the car when the other two gunmen fired.

As the patrolmen ducked for shelter, the gunmen, all described as being in their early twenties, leaped into their high powered car and escaped as police bullets plowed thru the vehicle.

As they abandoned their car at nearby Miquon, the gangsters attempted to force the milk truck of John B. Pollock, Sr., 50, of Conshohocken to the side of the road. Instead of obeying the gunmen, Pollock put on speed as a rain of lead was released by the gunmen.

These men, with the bishop and four district elders, comprise the committee-of-nine which will station the ministers of the conference to the various charges for the coming year. The list of new appointments will be made known on Saturday evening.

Wednesday night Bishop Marston preached to a large congregation on the subject, "Christ, the Way." This was an open meeting and gave the Free Methodist congregations of the vicinity an opportunity to hear their distinguished guest.

The service was at 7:30 o'clock.

Dinner was served in the dining room of the Third United Presbyterian church, East Washington and Adams streets. There are about 150 accredited delegates in attendance.

house across the Ellwood road, a tinder box, was not harmed, nor were the houses of Patchell or Peter Grim east of the barn.

Terrific Blaze
The blaze was a terrific one. Whipped by an east wind the building was a huge torch and the sky was lighted so that it was visible for miles. Hundreds of automobiles with curious people in them soon wended their way to the fire. Neighboring women served the firemen hot coffee and sandwiches and volunteers threw buckets of water on the sides of adjoining houses to keep them from bursting into flame.

The Pennsylvania Power company cut off the power in its lines to avoid accident when the poles came down, while the telephone wires were badly damaged. About six poles were so badly burned they will have to be replaced and about 150 feet of wire of all kinds must be replaced. Linemen were on the job repairing the damage at 4 o'clock while the ruins of the Davis building was yet smoldering.

The barn and store building were entirely destroyed, nothing being left but the foundation walls. It was one of the most spectacular fires in several years. The families in the building were forced to flee in their night clothes.

Partial insurance covered the building but there was no insurance on the contents of either the store or the apartments.

Former Spanish Queen Reaches United States

Victoria Comes To America To See Her Stricken Son, Count Of Covadonga

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Victoria, unhappy former queen of Spain, arrived here today aboard the Italian liner Conte Di Savoia to visit her stricken son, the Count of Covadonga.

Though no longer a queen, the granddaughter of England's great Queen Victoria, demonstrated that she still has the power to effect the things she wishes.

Today she desired privacy. No queen could have been more effectively shielded upon arrival in New York's noisy harbor. Before the cutters, carrying customs men and reporters, reached the liner, a sleek white yacht drew alongside it and Victoria boarded it to be taken privately to her son's bedside.

It was her first visit to America. With her were her daughter and son-in-law, the Infanta Beatriz and Duke Alalesandro Torlonia, and their baby daughter. The latter three remained aboard the liner and issued a statement explaining that the queen is traveling incognito.

LOYALISTS RUSHING REINFORCEMENTS TO TOLEDO BATTLE

arid plateau, Madrid relies almost altogether on outlying provinces for food.

Because of the transcendent importance of holding the Toledo front, therefore, the government has been moving up reinforcements almost daily.

Word from Toledo today said that the government's task of loading two underground tunnels beneath the Alcazar with dynamite preparatory to blowing up that old fortress, is being completed today.

I visited these tunnels Tuesday, after the leaders of the 1400 rebels, including about 400 women and children, had again refused to surrender.

On the Bay of Biscay front, socialists and anarchists in the rebel-besieged city of Santander are now reported to be fighting among themselves, as the loyalists did before.

The anarchists have taken control of the city, occupying the town hall and 600 hostages, including many socialists, on a freight boat in the harbor.

Partner west, where troops of Gen. Mola are trying to end a two-month siege by loyalist miners of Oviedo, the rebels are said to have captured Grado, 11 miles from Oviedo.

The rebel radio at Burgos said the loyalists were thrust back 25 miles in the Cordova sector, while another fierce battle was raging on the Saragossa front.

Gen. Mola also claimed capture of Navas Del Marques in the Guadarrama mountains.

Delegates Back From Convention

County Commissioner Bolinger And Clerk, W. A. Eakin, Return From Washington, Pa.

County Commissioner George H. Bolinger and Chief Clerk W. A. Eakin returned from Washington, Pa., last night, where they represented Lawrence county at the state convention of county commissioners.

Several hundred commissioners, solicitors and clerks from the 67 counties of Pennsylvania were in attendance. Commissioner Bolinger said this morning that he had learned that there are several counties in the state which have not been paying the damages accruing from the building of state roads, although most of the counties have been doing it.

There was a resolution passed at the convention favoring the passage of a law which would exempt all counties from the payment of damages. This will be taken up by the legislative committee at the next session of the legislature.

The addresses which were given at the convention dealt largely with the road program of Pennsylvania, with an outline of the work which has already been done and what it is proposed to do.

Special guests were Mrs. Mary Gilliland, Mrs. Charles McKeever, Marjorie Kane, Gerald George, Pete Hilliard, Mrs. Clara Essinger, and Mr. Hogue.

Games of 500 and bingo enlivened the hours following. The group decided to have a Halloween party in October, at the home of Mrs. Edward Dean, 112 East Moody avenue.

Lose Big Hips Fat Stomachs Double Chins

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

There is no mystery about this method. Doctors have been prescribing it for years. It is based on a scientific discovery of the medical profession that excess fat in many cases is caused by a little gland that does not work well.

Every drop of our blood goes through this tiny gland sixteen times a day. It produces about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours. The action of this fluid on the blood is much the same as the action of a good draft has on the burning of coal in a furnace. It turns out the "draft" that increases the speed with which food and fatty tissues "burn up".

If this gland doesn't pour out above one-half drop of its vital fluid a day, many people take on fat. Doctors find a simple easy way to remedy this condition is to feed this gland the substance it lacks. Then, many people get rid of the excess flesh that swells out their figures in ugly bumps and lumps.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on this same method so generally used by modern doctors. Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a world famous medical laboratory. Their formula is given in every package so you know what you're taking.

For 28 years millions of fat people have found Marmola Prescription Tablets effective for the reduction of ugly fat. Don't take chances with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Get a box of Marmola from your druggist today.

AMENDMENT VS. USURPATION

THE spirit of encroachment tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus to create, what ever the form of government, a real despotism.

"If in the opinion of the people the distribution or modification of the constitutional powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the Constitution designates. But let there be no change by usurpation; for though this in one instance may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed."—From George Washington's "Farewell Address," September 17, 1796.

It was exactly 149 years ago that the members of the Constitutional Convention, who had been meeting in Philadelphia since May 25, rose. On that September 17, 1787, they adopted the Constitution which they had drafted in somewhat less than four months, and adjourned. A long hard struggle followed, for the original states, which had nearly lost the Revolutionary War through their controversies and through the weakness of the Confederation, were by no means united in purpose or policy. That ratification ensued and that the new government was born (on March 4, 1789) were due in no small part to the able pleas put forward by James Madison and Alexander Hamilton.

The belittling of the men who wrote the Federal Constitution, a modern fashion born of ignorance, has passed. That document continues to occupy its rightful place as a great work of the human mind, undoubtedly the greatest in its field in all history. But it helps one's perspective, we think, to note how accurately and with what skilled imagination these two statesmen of the horse and buggy era foresaw, named, described and warned against the very threat which now confronts the nation a century and a half later.

For the question about which the campaign of 1936 centers is exactly that which Washington defined with such precision in his farewell address of September 17, 1796. There are now twenty-one amendments to the Constitution. That means that it has been changed at the rate of one amendment every seven years. It is nonsense in sight of this record to pretend that it has been treated as sacrosanct or unchangeable. It can obviously be amended today by the New Dealers if they can demonstrate legitimate need of change and define their views in specific terms.

The issue lies far deeper than any such legitimate proposal. It is exactly that "encroachment" of which Washington wrote. The "weapon" is that "customary" one by which "free governments are destroyed." The danger is that, under a democratic form of government there will be a "real despotism."

The general phrases of the Constitution were so chosen that they might be applied to changing conditions, and they have been so applied—successfully through a century and a half of invention and expansion. Thanks to the Supreme Court that changing application has been held true to the spirit of the original conception, of a federal government with limited powers, carefully divided among co-ordinate departments to prevent dictatorship by any one. The New Deal would destroy the states to install its planned economy centralized in Washington bureaucrats. The New Deal would enlarge the executive discretion to a point which would destroy the independence of Congress. What President Roosevelt would do to the Supreme Court and the Constitution he has refused to divulge.

In a very real sense, today is the greatest birthday America possesses. May it have many returns and may they be happy!

POVERTY AND CRIME

New evidence bearing on the relationship between poverty and crime will surprise a great many people who have got into the way of regarding these two things as cause and effect.

A survey of juvenile delinquency made for the Welfare Council of New York City shows that in 1930 the children's court placed on probation 1,260 children from families with incomes of $50 a week or more, and 1,268 children from families with incomes of $25 a week or less. In accordance with a widely held belief, the $25 and under income group should have provided many more delinquents than the $50 and over group, yet the two figures are practically identical.

This does not prove that poverty is a desirable social condition. But it brings seriously into question the contention of sociologists that poverty is one of the biggest factors in juvenile delinquency that leads to crime; and it bears out what everybody has observed—namely, that many children who must feel the pinch of poverty go straight.

MORE TRADE EDUCATION

I went into a leather shop recently to have a belt made. The proprietor of the shop was very busy and could not perform the little work necessary, until the next day.

The proprietor said: "I need a man very badly who knows the trade. I cannot find one. Young men are not taught trades today in sufficient numbers to supply the demand for skilled workmen. I have advertised all over Southern California for a skilled leather man and none have replied. I know 200 dining, parlor and sleeping cars, and 9,000 Pullmans.

here. I have always tried to deal honorably with my fellowmen, but must take that man away from my competitor. I don't want to do this, but conditions make it imperative.

In other words, this country is educating a lot of boys at great expense who find themselves when they reach their majority, unable to work at any trade.

In San Diego, California, at the present time, it is hard to find a good carpenter. It is almost impossible to find a joiner. Carpenters that are available are just hammer and saw men. The use of the chisel, the auger and the fine tools of joining are unknown to them.

What this nation needs just now is less money relief, less "higher" education and real trade education.

Last year there were over 25,700 passenger-carrying cars on class 1 railroads in this country, about 2,200 dining, parlor and sleeping cars, and 9,000 Pullmans.

All Of Us

A BAD EXAMPLE
I KNOW an excellent human being, a man of many virtues. He is decent, he is thoughtful, high minded. He will go out of his way to do favors for you. He sacrifices himself for his family, he labors mightily, uncomplainingly to fulfill the obligations he has assumed. He is broadminded, intellectually considerate, and if all other men were like him, it would be a very good world.

Has this acquaintance of mine a host of friends?
No, he has very few. . . . He is held in great respect by all who know him, and all of them agree that he is a fine fellow. . . . But I don't think he has ONE close friend, and few seek his companionship. They ought to like him, and they think they do, but they do not acclaim him as their friend.

I know, and you probably do, too, a man who is something of a rascal, noisy, independent, reckless. . . . He neglects his family, he shrugs his obligations blithely from his shoulders. . . . He can't hold a job and it doesn't seem to worry him. . . . He is always in debt and often he leans too heavily upon his friends who have responsibilities of their own.

He gets drunk and makes a nuisance of himself. He is in many ways a deplorable human being. Has he friends? . . . Yes, he has. Hundreds of them. If he didn't he'd probably be in the gutter now instead of dancing merrily on his way. They do not praise him, nor do they hold him up as a good example for mankind, but they like him. They love him, and as long as their patience and endurance hold out they will continue to be his friends.

Why the difference? . . . Well, it's no secret. The excellent man is a bore. There is no light in him. He's heavy and he lowers the tone of those who meet him. But the rascal is gay. He lifts your heart when you meet him. He enlarges life and stimulates your spirit. So men love him, and hardly know that the superior man is alive. It isn't fair. Everybody will admit it's an outrage. . . . But there isn't a thing you or anybody else can do about it. . . . Life isn't always moral and fair.

Just Folks

PARENTS
They may not be wise as the wisest, they may not be clever or strong.

There'll be times you will think that their counsel is narrow or utterly wrong. You will think when they frown upon pleasures which you are so eager to share.

That your father and mother who love you are merely an old-fashioned pair. But this they would have you remember, whatever they say or they do.

It is not of themselves they are thinking—their thoughts are all centered in you.

There are those who will flatter to please you for something they're eager to gain.

There are those who will seem to befriend you who never will consent to remain.

Some stranger will lead you to folly and leave you the moment it's done.

Some, not caring what harm may befall you will tempt you with dangerous fun.

You may question the motives of others, but remember your whole lifetime through father and mother who love you have no other motive than you.

There is nothing of profit they're seeking; there's nothing they want you to buy.

You've no reason to doubt what they tell you; they've nothing to gain by a lie.

Whenever they check or correct you, it is not for themselves that they speak.

They would happier be could they praise you but it's only your welfare they seek.

You may think them old-fashioned and funny and narrow, as children will do, remember your father and mother have all their hopes centered in you.

In last year's Kentucky Derby one of the entrants was a hand-some bay horse, which previously had done duty on the front of an ice wagon. DEAR Miss Markel—What is proper for a daughter-in-law to wear at the funeral of her husband's mother? If she should wear mourning, how long should it be worn to show respect? YOUNG WIFE.

Answer—She should wear black but not necessarily crepe. This should be worn for the length of time during which her husband wears mourning. The husband should show like respect for his wife's family.

DEAR Miss Markel—During my engagement (which has just been broken) I was given numerous shower gifts. Am I now expected to return these to the donors? READER.

Answer—When an engagement is broken, all gifts incidental to the wedding—shower and wedding presents, as well as the engagement ring—should be returned.

Answer—Surely, you may wear dinner jackets (tuxedos), especially if the bride will wear a dinner dress or even if she wears a wedding dress and veil along simple lines.

British Scout Nazi Statement.
Loud Talk Covers Personal Weakness.
British To Sit On Sidelines.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

THE BRITISH are not impressed by Hitler's loud assertions that the Nazis are arming to defend all the world against communism. The British prefer to defend themselves. They believe that Hitler is arming himself and thus to intimidate France and Great Britain with a formidable Nazi-Fascist alignment. It is the old Napoleonic plan.

The British believe, furthermore, that Hitler is going to new depths of emotional nationalism in order to take the minds of the German people off the increasing financial straits of Germany—and the lack of reforms. They are beginning to believe, the louder that Hitler talks, that he may sense personal weakness and may enter into a war to save his regime. That is what all dictators eventually do. And, in so doing, they plunge an entire world into war.

The British have had some past experience—with one Napoleon, for example.

AGAINST WHOM?
The British do not for one moment believe Hitler's threats are against the Soviet Union.

"Why not?" you ask.
Because the British and the French have the colonies that Germany desires. And middle Europe nations have the trade with the British and the French that Germany desires. Hitler's "warning," therefore, is indirectly aimed at Britain and France.

The wrong that was done to Germany—the German people believe—was done by the Versailles treaty, imposed by Great Britain and France.

France no longer is the old France. To arouse hatred against France in Germany these days, therefore, one must portray the nation as a communist monster in league with Germany's arch-enemy, Russia, instead of the financial stricken country that it really is.

HITLER'S DARE
The British do not believe that Hitler would dare to fight the Soviet Union. Because Soviet planes would rain terror on German towns, as one military expert remarks? No; Germany always has been able to put up a splendid military defense.

"As Maine Goes"

Election Result As Seen By New York Sun

The Republicans sweep in Maine bringing victory to the Republican candidates for Governor, United States Senator and Representative in the three districts of the State, will be a heartening influence in the remaining days of the campaign.

Pundits have reminded everybody that "as Maine" goes so goes the nation, "is a leaky maxim, but the leaks have been demonstrated only by a small plurality. With a few precincts missing the plurality of Lewis O. Barrows Republican candidate for Governor this year is 43,000 a far cry from the 23,000 Democratic plurality in 1934 when Governor Louis J. Brann was elected to office for the second time.

The first between Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., Republican, and Governor Brann, Democrat for the Senate was the center of interest in the Maine campaign. Governor Brann's popularity, his industry in obtaining Federal money for the state and his care to dissociate the State administration from the New Deal could not save him from the G. O. P. tide. He gave Senator White a close race as it was evident from the start that he would, but Senator White's victory, however narrowly won, remains an impressive victory over the best vote getter that Maine Democrats have had in a whole generation.

The completeness of the Republican victory in the three Congress districts of the state is even more impressive than the defeat of Governor Brann. Two years ago the Republicans won only one of these districts, lost another by a small margin and were defeated in the third by 6,000 votes. This year the Republicans despite the bad feeling left by the primary election, have captured all three of the districts by rousing pluralities. In the First District the plurality will be more than 16,000, in the second more than 14,000 and in the third more than 19,000. These figures represent a genuine return of party loyalty among the Republicans of Maine and demonstrate better than assertions can that Maine is overwhelmingly against the New Deal.

The old saying about "as Maine goes" is perpetuated because Maine people are not greatly unlike other Americans and because profound changes of opinion which are reflected in the Maine vote are likely to be reflected in the vote in other States. Maine's election returns are the handwriting on the wall for Farley and Company.

Syracuse University. He suffered a fractured skull and shock in the accident which occurred on the York-Haven-Manchester highway.

Three other youths injured when the car overturned on the road were in the hospital here.

Five Holdup Men Are Being Held In Philadelphia

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Five men, tracked down by detectives after a three months search, were under arrest today for beating and robbing a priest of $1472 in cash and $800 in travelers checks.

One of the prisoners, Roxy Racuci, a bartender, was accused of accepting more than $800 of the plunder, offering to get the bills of large denomination changed at 10 per cent commission.

The victim, Rev. Basil Fresno, of St. Nicholas church, Jamaica, L. I., was waylaid by four men during a visit here last June. All of those held, detectives said, have confessed.

California Act Upheld By Court

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—The appellate division of the California superior court here in a decision has upheld the constitutionality of the California Unfair Practices Act which had been challenged by J.
Kahn, a retail grocer of San Fernando township.

The case arose when Kahn was charged under the act of selling a can of nationally advertised shortening at a price below cost. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace
H. A. Decker of San Fernando and was fined $500 and given a suspended sentence of six months' imprisonment. In appealing from this sentence Kahn urged that the act was unconstitutional on the ground that it deprived him of property and liberty. The appellate court in rendering a decision upholding the lower court refused to recognize that Kahn's constitutional rights had been abridged and stated that they did not recognize the constitutional right of a merchant to market goods without profit for the purpose of injuring competitors.

Fischer And Goodman Win Golf Matches

Two Of National Amateur Favorites Still Remain In Running For Title

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Johnny Fischer, Cincinnati ace, won a great fifth round match from Gus Moreland, Chicago, by 1 up on the home green in the National Amateur Golf championship today. Johnny had to come from behind to win, squaring the match on the sixteenth and winning it at the eighteenth after Moreland had burned up the course with 34 to the turn to be 1 up.

Scotty Campbell, another favorite, defeated Bill Holt, Jr., Syracuse, by 3 and 2, while Johnny Goodman, former open champion, defeated John D. Langley, the Englishman, by 5 and 3.

Putts Beautifully

Moreland's putting was magnificent through the first nine, with 25-footers for birdies at the third and fifth, another good putt for a birdie at the seventh and a 10-footer for a birdie at the eighth. He missed a putt for a par and a 33 at the ninth but had the "low" outgoing nine of the event, 34 to Fischer's 35.

Fischer should have squared it at the thirteenth but missed a 2-footer, however, Johnny finally caught up with Gus at the fifteenth and so did retribution, Gus pitching into a bunker to lose the hole to Fischer's 5.

AUTO COLLISION

Stanley Grebens, Bessemer, reported to police yesterday he was driving an auto south at Mill and Washington street and his car struck an auto carrying Pennsylvania license 3P547.

Delay Resurfacing Of Walnut Street

Council Plans To Resurface One Of Three Other Streets

Due to the inability of the New Castle Street Electric Railway Company to raise their Walnut street car tracks this fall that thoroughfare may not be amended this year. In view of this B. P. Butler, streets director, today requested councilmanic colleagues in a meeting at city hall to recommend one of three thoroughfares, Ray street, Lincoln avenue, or Diamond way, for resurfacing.

Butler said he had been informed by City Engineer Glenn R. Throp, the city vet has 2,000 tons of asphalt of 5,000 tons purchased and Butler said he would like to see more of the work done as soon as possible because as soon as the leaves fall the asphalt will not bind.

Council authorized City Solicitor William D. Cobau to draft an ordinance providing for the resurfacing of the three thoroughfares suggested and in the meanwhile the councilmen will decide which one of the streets will be improved.

Solons To Study City Finances

Want To Know Where They Can Get Money For Big Run Project

No definite action was taken by council at their session in city hall today toward putting through the proposed improvement of the Big Run which if done, is intended as a flood preventative.

However, the report submitted by City Engineer Glenn R. Throp was referred to committee on motion of Finance Director J. L. Fink who said he desired to ascertain from whence the city's share of cost would come.

According to the report of the city engineer the city's cost would be $19,667.25 and the cost to the federal government, $95,644.56. The city's cost is approximately 20 percent as called for by new W. P. A. regulations.

Streets Director B. P. Butler urged the improvement and also speed. He said that considerable damage had been caused in the South Side section by the last flood. However, council intends to inquire into the city's finances before acting.

It was indicated by the city engineer that the WPA here would approve a project if the council asks for the improvement.

READY FOR SEASON

The finishing touches are being put on the different rooms in the Y. M. C. A. preparatory to getting away on the fall season during the first week in October.

The gym has been thoroughly cleaned, the floors sanded, and today workmen were placing an entirely new cover on the gym floor. The swimming pool has been gone over and painted and both the gym floor and the pool is ready for the opening on Monday, October 5.

HI-Y WILL START

During the week of September 28, all of the various Hi-Y clubs throughout New Castle will begin their fall activities. The various club members and officers are all in readiness for the annual rally which will be held in Ellwood City on Tuesday evening.

Members of the Senior Hi-Y, Lincoln Hi-Y, Union Township Hi-Y, the George Washington Jr. Hi-Y, and the Sophomore Hi-Y are all planning on sending a number of their members to this rally.

Advisors and officers of all clubs have been instructed to get in touch with physical instructor, Henry MacNichols in regard to activities this fall and also about the rally.

The expense of maintaining a U. S. dreadnaught for a year, about $2,500,000, not counting wages of the crew, is more than the maintenance of a big transatlantic liner.

The World At A Glance

the British meet crises. When you talk "communistic menace," they yawn. When you mention "division of colonies," they have nervous breakdowns and the chicken-pox—and build more warships and airplanes.

Napoleon was almost at the doors of England—and still the British gave tea parties, and built more warships, and sent charming envoys around to other nations. This time the envoy has been no less than the king himself. And Hitler probably will find that Yugoslavia, Greece, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Turkey have lined up with France and Britain.

The British monarch even had his ears treated in Vienna. And he was cheered by a crowd outside his hotel. That in Hitler's native Austria!

NEEDS RAW MATERIALS

It actually is not Communistic Russia that Hitler fears, but realization by the German people that his plan for making the Reich independent of other countries for raw materials is a failure.

We read this headline in the New York Times:

"Tightness in money dominates Berlin. Nuremberg congress not felt, talk of colonies having slight economic role. (The Germans never made a financial success of colonies.) Capital must stay home. Hitler's self-sufficiency plan fails to lift stocks that represent substitutes."

Germany must have raw resources—and, unfortunately, it must make deals with nations it doesn't like in order to obtain them. It must get on friendly terms with other countries so that they will trade with her.

Hitler has not lifted the curse of the Versailles treaty with his huge military machine. He probably has added to the burden, for in another dispatch we read that corporation taxes have been increased 25 percent this year in Germany—and will be 50 percent higher than the present rate in 1937.

Such taxes can be as confiscatory as communism.

But if a German criticizes, or somebody believes he criticizes—off he goes to a concentration camp.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

See Demand For Skilled Workers

Scarcity Is Reported In Some Districts Where Trained Workers
Are Needed

MANY JOBLESS STILL REMAIN

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—At last
there seems to be an appreciable increase in the demand for industrial workers throughout the country.

Business obviously has been improving for some time, but the complaint repeatedly has been made that it was not re-absorbing a very large proportion of the unemployed. Now evidently it is beginning to do so.

Government statistics do not reflect the bulge at all clearly because of the lack of any official machinery to ascertain the exact number of the involuntarily idle.
However, reports from many centers of industry speak of an actual scarcity of skilled labor to meet present requirements.

LAG EXPLAINED

I recall that, early in the period

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—
the parts lifeless. To end Piles an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation, and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for hundreds of patients with a marvelous record of success and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. says "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your Pile misery or money back."

of the business pickup, Theodore M.
Knappen, a competent economic specialist connected with the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, predicted to me that the re-absorption of idle workers into jobs would lag several months beyond business' rising tide.

After every depression, he said,
employers have been slow to read-
just themselves to conditions of returning prosperity until convinced that what looked like improvement was the real thing.

Apparently they rather belatedly are becoming convinced. Maybe Knappen was right.

CONSTANT UNEMPLOYED

Yet, although more jobs are available, the relief load hardly lightens.
How is that?

Perhaps the answer is to be found in another conversation I had with an excellent authority—George H.
Carter, former public printer of the United States, today a salesman of newspaper machinery, constantly touring Uncle Sam's realm.

Carter's theory is that we always had a great many more unemployed than we realized.

That is to say, they were on relief in pre-depression days but were not officially so recognized. They lived on private charity were supported by relatives or pan-handled,
some of them near-highwaymen.
They were formally on relief.

A LARGE LIST

Having been definitely so listed,
we shall have them with us forever,
George Carter believes.

He inclines to the view that it is better to have them unequivocally on relief than promiscuously "bum-ming around". George is not a New Dealer, either. He lost his government printer's job when the New Deal came in.

President Roosevelt estimates that there are 3,000,000 chronic unemployables in the land—a permanent relief roll.

George thinks the roster might be multiplied two or three times.

ONE VIEW

If that is the case—
If, out of a dozen millions of unemployed, two or three-quarters are unemployable anyway, the ratio of genuine unemployment is not so bad.

Nevertheless, there is a suggestion that the standard of employability must be mightily high.

GOOD FARM PRICES

Agriculture?
Government figures show that farmers will reap a rich financial harvest this year.

They will, in total figures, since those who have any crops at all will get such fancy prices because of the drouth. But of course, the farmers whose crops were totally wiped out will get nothing. If a farmer has nothing to sell at high prices, what good does it do him to have prices high?

Economics are queer things.

There is a clock in Lancashire, England, that strikes 13 times at one o'clock. It was devised by the Duke of Bridgewater so that workmen would know when to return after the noonday meal. Previously employees had complained it was not always possible to hear the single stroke of the clock.

RECALLS EXPERIENCE

Upon reading an article in The News on Monday, September 14, which related how a certain man in Houston, Texas, found $1400 and upon returning it to its owner was given a very nice thank you as a reward, reminded J. H. Gross, Sr., of 489 Neshaunock avenue, of the time when he found the sum of $7,500 and didn't even receive as much as a
thank you.

The News is in receipt of the following letter which relates this happening:
Editor, The News:

The enclosed clipping taken from your paper on September 14th regarding one J. J. Pierce, Houston, Texas, who found $1400, and received a thank you for returning it, reminds me of when I was a boy about nine years of age. I found a wallet containing more than $7,500

while going to a grocery store, for my mother, who was a widow.

Mother took me with the wallet to the man who had lost it. His name was in the pocketbook, and we were tenants of his. We went to the door and mother asked him if he had lost anything. He replied that he had lost his pocketbook, and inquired if we had found it. Mother told him that I had found it, and he wanted to know if she knew how much was in it. She replied that she did not,
and then invited us into the house.

He counted the money and stated that there was $7,500 in it. As a reward for finding and returning this purse he offered me 25 cents, but mother would not allow me to take it, because of the small amount, and I went home crying—without even a
thank you.

The man is dead now, and I do not know if he took it along with him. I can not imagine what I would do now, if I should find an equal amount, and with conditions and circumstances such as they are at present. I have not drawn a day's wages since 1933.

Cummings Warns Merchants About Unfair Placards

Report Merchants Placard Stores With Signs Detrimental To Government

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—Attorney General Cummings today issued a blunt warning to merchants who post placards which state that rising prices of their products are caused by federal taxes.

The Justice Department, Cummings said, has received information from all parts of the country that such placards have been displayed for partisan political purposes.

"We have parts of the country indicating some merchants are putting up placards in an endeavor to create the impression that part of the price of their goods is due to federal taxation," Cummings declared.

"The question has arisen whether this is a warranted practice under the law," Cummings said.

Referring to federal statutes, the attorney general cited a regulation which sets forth that "whoever in connection with the sale of any article makes any statement, written or oral, intended to lead anyone to believe any part of the price consists of a tax imposed by the United States, is liable to a $1,000 fine, or one year imprisonment, or both."

"I sincerely hope that partisan zeal will not lead anyone to violate this federal statute," Cummings continued.

"This would be embarrassing all around. The Department of Justice does not want to be drawn into any controversy that has a partisan significance. Good sense ought to prevail in such matters."

"I hope no issue will be presented of which I will have to take notice. The indications are that these placards are being put up to affect the election. They might tend to limit the sale of farm products."

"I hope this warning will have a salutary effect."

On Court House Hill

County Commissioner Floyd Cotton, who has been investigating welfare cases, has about five townships in the eastern part of the county to cover before completing his work. When these are finished a detailed report of the work will be made.

While no more new old age pensioners have been actually put on the Lawrence county rolls for some time, the Mothers' Assistance board, which has charge of the work, reports that there are now quite a large number of applications, which have been approved by the local board and which are now in Harrisburg. It is impossible to tell just when payments will start.

A divorce was granted in record time by Judge James A. Chambers in the case of Mary Elizabeth Locke against Raymond Leroy Locke. The application was made on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment, and the respondent did not appear to contest the case. At the conclusion of the testimony offered by Mrs. Locke, Judge Chambers directed that the decree be written out at once, which was done.

Prothonotary John A. Edgar now has the new filing cases recently received, installed to the left of the entrance to his office. All of the spaces have been filled with records, which has made it possible to relieve some of the congestion in the back storage room where books had to be piled on counters, making the handling of them very inconvenient.

County commissioners in session at Washington, Pa., this week adopted a resolution favoring legislation which would make the state responsible for land damages where state roads are relocated. Under the present law the counties are now responsible for the damages and have practically no say in changes to be made, or in the disposition of water courses.

The grand jury in session at court this week was a business-like body, completing all of about forty cases presented by District Attorney Mont

WAR VET ATTACKED BY SISTER-IN-LAW

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 17—His face and clothing covered with blood, Hugh Workman, 35, veteran of the World War, presented a sorry spectacle as he walked in the business section of the city.

The wound, he said, had been inflicted by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ann Schiffbauer, of Lemont, who, he charged attacked him with a poker.

Workman says he had gone to the Schiffbauer home to see his two children, in accordance with a court order. Following the attack, he said, Mrs. Schiffbauer battered the rear end of his automobile as he attempted to escape.

Don't trust oratory. It never seems to do its best until it is working at something foolish.

Library Circulation Is Large In August

Miss Alice Sterling, librarian for the Free Public Library announces that the total circulation for the month of August was 14,770. Japan isn't starting anything new. China has been often attacked and sometimes conquered by other nations but now nobody remembers what their names were.

GET UP NIGHTS?

Make This 25c Test

If irritated or weak bladder causes getting up nights, frequent desire, scanty flow, burning or backache, drink lots of boiled or distilled water. You know what hard water does to a teakettle. Also help flush out excess acids, waste and deposits, with little green Bilets, a bladder laxative. Two of the 8 time-tested ingredients are buchu leaves and juniper oil. If you are not pleased in four days, your druggist will refund your 25c. Eckerd's Prescriptions Druggists.

Delay Action In
Termite Battle
At Ward School

No action in the elimination of termites in the Mahoning school will be taken by the New Castle School Board at the present time. This was the recommendation of the committee investigating the condition.

In its report the committee said the building was no worse than it was a year ago and the cost, approximately $1700 was not provided in the budget.

J. H. McIlvenny, vice president of the board said he was not sure it was wise economy to delay treatment of the building as continued ravages might impair the building to a point where repairs would far exceed the cost of treatment. The board adopted the recommendation of the committee.

Richman Plane
Pulled From Bog

Fliers May Get To New York By Tonight, If Plane Is Repaired
(International News Service)
HARBOUR GRACE, Nfld., Sept. 17.—Harry Richman, the Broadway singer, and Dick Merrill, the veteran transport pilot, will keep their New York "dinner date" this evening if they can make the necessary repairs on their trans-Atlantic monoplane "Lady Peace", which yesterday was pulled out of the bog in which it landed at Musgrave Harbor.

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, famous war ace, was speeding to the aid of the marooned pair in a motor launch. He was scheduled to reach them some time last night, but because of rough seas it was thought likely he had put into a quiet cove to wait for daylight before continuing to Musgrave Harbor.

Approximately 150 miles of turbulent water separate Musgrave Harbor from Harbor Grace.

The two fliers sent out the following message last night:

"We'll fly to New York under our own power. We started from there and that's where we'll finish."

They also took occasion to again deny reports that they had quarreled over the dumping of 500 gallons of gasoline while the "Lady Peace" was a few hundred miles off the Newfoundland coast.

Safety Councils For Coal Mining Industry Formed

Hope To Eliminate Many Hazards To Miners In Soft And Hard Coal
Region

By FREDERICK N. POLANSKY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—Designed to eliminate hazards that jeopardize the lives of Pennsylvania's 260,000 coal miners, safety councils will be organized in the state's anthracite and bituminous regions, Secretary of Mines Michael J. Hartneady revealed today.

First of its kind to be established anywhere in the country, the program will have as its purpose removal of mine accident causes by cooperation between mine, company and state representatives, Hartneady said.

Eleven Members
The councils, to be organized in every coal company in each mine inspector district in the state, ac-

ording to Hartneady, will consist of 11 members each; five representing the actual miners, five representing the company, and the inspector himself who will supervise the group's activities.

"The five miners on the council," Hartneady said, "will represent the various occupations in coal mining and it will be their duty to report to their local union all hazardous conditions in and about the operations."

"The safety council of the union, then, takes up the matter with the five members who represent the company. These company representatives will be required to be officials with authority to act on any report made by those working in the mines."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often
Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Naval Squadron Is Re-established

United States Will Again
Have European Naval Squadron Available

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The grave international situation caused by the Spanish civil war today brought re-establishment of the United States' European naval squadron.

The navy department admitted today that the squadron had been re-established following repeated denials of such an intention by President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Navy Claude Swanson.

The squadron will be established "temporarily" the navy announced. It will be composed of the American warships that for the last two months have operated in Spanish waters evacuating American refugees with the addition of the light cruiser Raleigh, which is being sent overseas to relieve the heavy cruiser Quincy.

The squadron will be known as "Squadron 40—temporary." It will be commanded by Rear Admiral Arthur P. Fairfield, who has been in command of cruiser division seven of the scouting force. Admiral Fairfield will take command of the Raleigh, raising his flag on the cruiser at Norfolk, Friday.

The navy declined to give the departure date of the Raleigh but said the Quincy will return to this country for final acceptance trials upon arrival of the Raleigh at Gibraltar.

Directors Outline New Work Program For Local Y.W.C.A.

Busy Season Planned; Conference On September 29, "Mikado" October 21 And 22

New chairmen from the board of directors have been appointed to take charge of the Y. W. C. A. program of activities for the new season, and they are now busily engaged in filling their committees and planning for their work.

Mrs. Robert Eckles, new president of the board, announced the names of the chairmen as follows, when the directors had their first meeting Tuesday night:

Finance, Mrs. John Elliott; building administration, Mrs. O. P. Brown; membership, Mrs. Charles T. Metzler; educational department, Mrs. James Rhodes; general chairman, religious education, Mrs. Archibald Davis; public affairs, Miss Alice Sterling; health, Dr. Mildred Rogers; adult education, Miss Floy Owens; Girl Reserve, Miss Virginia Duff; industrial clubs, Mrs. John Byers; International Institute, Miss Ethel Moore; camp, Mrs. Glenn Berry; personnel, Mrs. Emily Rice; and Elm Street Committee of Management, Mrs. Carrie Cobb.

Also developing from the meeting was the announcement that the Y. W. C. A. production of the famous Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, "The Mikado," will be presented at the Cathedral on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, October 21 and 22. The announcement of the dates was made by Mrs. John Elliott, chairman. The production will have as co-directors William Campbell and Albert Cordray. Auditions resulted in some splendid talent being secured and the first rehearsal was conducted Tuesday night. There are a few vacancies in the alto and tenor parts and it is hoped that they may be filled soon.

It was decided to have the annual setting-up conference for all board and committee members, club officers and advisers, at Camp East Brook Tuesday, September 29, from 4 to 9 p. m.

A vote of thanks was extended by the board to the East Side and Mahoningtown Garden clubs for their generous donations of flowers during the summer.

The budget of the Y. W. C. A. to be presented to the Community Chest budget committee was presented by the finance chairman and was approved by the board. Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson was present and explained the re-organization of the Chest for this year.

Mrs. Archibald Davis of the religious education committee had secured Mrs. Arthur Foster to have charge of the devotions during the evening.

Mrs. Eckles presided in a very efficient and gracious manner. She thanked the directors for their interest in assembling on such a warm evening and asked for their continued co-operation through the new program of work.

"MY FAMILY SAYS A&P BREAD MAKES THE BEST TOAST"

"THE TEXTURE AND FLAVOR OF BREAD FOR TOASTING," SAYS PENNSYLVANIA MOTHER.

- 1 "Since buying A&P Bread we enjoy our breakfast toast more than we ever did before. And I've actually saved more than $10 this year on bread bills alone."
- 2 "My husband and children love good toast. But some breads just wouldn't toast correctly. They seemed to be too soggy, or too dry, or too unevenly toasted."
- 3 "Then one day I discovered A & P Bread. And what a difference we noticed. The smooth, even texture and marvelous flavor of A & P Bread made perfect toast."
- 4 "Now we use A & P Bread regularly. The whole family loves its freshness and flavor and its soft tenderness. And surprisingly enough, it costs us less money, too."

AROUND CITY HALL

It may be only two weeks or more until Rural avenue is opened to traffic, according to Glenn Throop, City Engineer. He said that as soon as bids for material are opened and awards made shipments of material to the city will be hurried and the top spread on the stone base. He declared that already two feet of the stone wall on each side of the hill where the wall is being built has been laid.

Relative to the improvement of the Big Run as a flood preventative the city engineer, Glenn Throop said today that 51,150 cubic yards of dirt must be removed from the stream. Five thousand three hundred tons of stone must be quarried for the stone wall along the banks.

Council listened to First Ward assessment appeals yesterday. On Tuesday they heard appeals from Sixth Ward assessments. Some objected to increases and when the city assessor, A. C. Shoaf was asked if there had been a general increase in assessments he replied negatively saying that whenever a raise was made it was for the purpose of equalization in assessments.

STORM WARNINGS ISSUED ALONG U. S. COAST

North Carolina May Feel Storm

Severe Tropical Disturbance Is Roaring Over Atlantic Ocean

APPEARS HEADED FOR CAPE HATTERAS

(International News Service)
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 17.—With storm warnings hoisted from Southport, N. C., to the Virginia capes, new warnings were ordered up all along the North Carolina coast here early today as a severe tropical disturbance of great extent continued to roar over the Atlantic in the general direction of Cape Hatteras.

In an advisory issued at 2:45 a. m. E. S. T., the hurricane division of the U. S. weather bureau here located the center of the storm at approximately 400 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, or at latitude 31 and longitude 71. At that time the disturbance was moving northwestward at a rate of 10 to 12 miles per hour.

May Hit North Carolina.
Strong northeast or north winds will prevail along the North Carolina and Virginia coasts today, the advisory stated, probably reaching gale force by night.

All interest in this area were advised to stand by for further information, or to proceed with the utmost caution. All small craft was advised to remain in or close to port until the storm was over.

Head Meteorologist G. E. Dunn of the local weather bureau said if the storm continued its present course, residents along the North Carolina coast would begin to feel the effects of the hurricane around noon or by late this afternoon.

Heavy rains and squalls were reported over a large area, and winds of hurricane force accompanied the center of the disturbance, the advisory further stated.

HUNGER MARCH

COST IS BARED

$11,000 In Public Funds Shown Expended Upon Earle Authorization

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 17.—Auditor-General Frank E. Baldwin today announced an audit of requisitions reveals $11,000 in public funds was spent upon authorization of Governor Earle to maintain "hunger marchers" during their 18-day demonstration in the state senate during the closing weeks of the recent special legislative session.

That total, Baldwin said, does not include the cost of repairing damages caused by vandalism in the senate galleries while the demonstrators camped there day and night. The cost of repairing that damage, he said, has not yet been estimated.

At a time when the exhaustion of state appropriations resulted in complete stoppage of direct relief to unemployed persons who remained at home, the $11,000 expenditure was approved by the governor to keep in Harrisburg the demonstrators who booed and hissed Republican senators who declined to accept in full the governor's program for new taxes.

The expenditure for the hunger marchers was made from Federal transient funds which are under the exclusive control of the governor and which Earle allocated to feed and house the marchers.

FROSTBURG, Md., Sept. 17.—Burton Lancaster, 65, is a patient at Miners hospital as the result of being bitten by a rat. Lancaster operates a farm near Finzel, and was putting baby chicks in their coop to prevent the rodents from destroying them, when a large rat sprang at him.

The rat wedged his teeth in several places in the flesh near Lancaster's right ankle. When his condition became worst after blood poisoning had set in, he was removed to the hospital.

Fourteen Grid Candidates Quit At Susquehanna

No Pay, No Play, Say Gridders, And Then They Hand In Their Uniforms

(International News Service)
SELINGROVE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Short, sweet and to the point, the platform "no pay—no play" today was the rallying cry of 14 lettermen of the Susquehanna university football team, who are striking for athletic scholarships.

Claiming they cannot, and will not, remain in school unless they are paid for the time lost from their jobs at the neighboring state colony of epileptics, where each is paid $93 a month for sundry duties, the athletes have deserted the practice field.

Will Have Team.
All of which was "just a big headache" to Head Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg, Jr., son of the famous veteran mentor. But strike or no strike, he stated today, Susquehanna will have a football team.

To prove it he sent the remnant of his squad through particularly grueling paces this forenoon.

There seemed little hope of settlement of the controversy, and compromise was almost completely despaired of. Said University President G. Morris Smith:

"The suggestion is impossible. We must live up to the regulations for Pennsylvania colleges, which plainly specify that no college is permitted to reward its athletes in any way."

Said the strikers:
"Impossible? O. K., we quit."
And quit they did.

Single Survivor Tells Of Wreck

(International News Service)
REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Sept. 17.—A lone mast sticking above the waves, a wreckage-strewn shore, and a single survivor today bore witness to the capriciousness of fate that ended Dr. Jean Baptiste Charcot's 30 years of perilous polar exploration with a shipwreck almost within the arms of a friendly harbor.

The story of the 70-mile gale that sent Charcot's famous ship, The Pourquois-Pas (Why Not?) to the bottom, just after she set forth on what was to have been the French explorer's last voyage, costing his and 32 of his crew's lives, was gasped today by the one survivor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Interview With a Book Shoppe Proprietor.

Q. I did not know before that New Yorkers read anything except gossip columns, racing forms and stock quotations. Yet I see you have a varied stock and customers at browse. How do you explain this?

A. Oh, New Yorkers buy all the latest and best published books with which they decorate their drawing rooms. Some of them actually read them. They read them, if possible, in the bookstore without buying them. That's why you see rubber bands around all but the dullest books and they are taking to putting the books like "Among the Maidens of the South Seas, with 100 Illustrations" in cellophane wrappers. I am told that some publishers are toying with the notion of tin containers, for which can-openers must be used.

Q. Pstt. There's a fine, gray old gentleman over there thumbing through Santayana. You can never despair of the reading tastes of America as long as the likes of him are abroad.

A. Don't be silly. He's passing the time while the boy goes to a branch shop for a copy of "The Lady in the Morgue."

Q. I notice you have a number of copies of "Gone With the Wind," the new 1,000-page Civil War story. Is it selling well?

A. Magnificently. Of course, no one ever buys a book of that length to read himself. It's a gift book. You buy it for Aunt Fanny back home and she gives it to Uncle Louie, who in turn loans it to Cousin Letty who is about to write a paper for her book club. She reads the first fifty pages, writes her paper and sends the book to her son in college, who sells it to a second-hand dealer for movie money.

Q. Are you really that cynical about your books? Isn't it possible that some of these people actually read "Gone With the Wind" from cover to cover?

A. They do; they read the jacket blurb on the inside of the front cover and continue through to the outside of the back cover. Anyhow, if a person has a book in his possession and reads a review of it, he gets the impression he has read it. In a couple of years he is convinced he has read it. He has probably seen the movie of it by that time and knows all the characters more intimately than the author.

Q. What's the policeman doing in your shop? Is he getting evidence for a raid?

A. Oh, no. He comes in every week. He had us advertise for a book on hooked rugs which was published in 1900 and is now out of print.

Q. What are young people reading these days? Do you still carry the Henty books and the Edgar Rice Burroughs thrillers?

A. Young people these days are interested in politics and economics. A group of them picked out a copy of Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations." They considered his propaganda for the money barons. We put Tugwell's picture in the window and they let us alone.

Q. How about chorus girls and stars of stage and screen? I am told that there has been a re-birth of literary enthusiasm among this group.

A. Oh, yes. A very lovely lady came in the other day and brought a copy of "Live Alone and Let It Live" by Marjorie Hillis. Later someone told me it was Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

Q. How do you find time to read so much yourself? I note that you are able to discuss all the latest books with your customers and recommend the best in all fields.

A. Oh, I never read anything. I haven't the time. Too busy selling. But I read the reviews. That's what book reviews are written for, anyway, didn't you know? They are composed by people who have tried to write novels and failed and find a useful function in making book shops possible. If we had to read most of the books we sell we'd all be in asylums and there would be no one left to sell books. There is only one thing that worries me. Sometimes I wonder whether the reviewers read the books themselves. I sometimes fear they write them after having read other reviews.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PUNISHING POOR STUDENTS

A good rule at school and at home is never to punish, or even scold, a child for learning difficulties or failures, or even for lack of attention to the lesson. Were this rule followed punishments at school would be reduced about 90 per cent. and at home about 50 per cent. The principle to observe with all learning situations is this: "The learner must feel right toward the thing to be learned, and he must succeed in order to put forth his best efforts."

"Dear Dr. Myers: My six-year-old boy brings papers home from school with stars when he does good work, and when he does bad work he doesn't bring the papers home because I told him I would punish him if he did not bring stars every day."

My reply: It seems to me that your little son shows considerable wisdom in his scheme. His plan, indeed, appears to be about a thousand times more sensible than yours. How would it be for you to imitate him, and tell him to bring home only the papers with stars on them? Then you could put these starred papers on the walls where the whole family could admire them. If you try this I have no doubt he will bring stars more and more often as the days go by.

In other words, celebrate your child's successes; say nothing about his learning failures. Figure that his failures will decrease as his successes increase. Help him to gain more successes on those he has already won. Then he soon will gain more faith in himself and feel the urge to strive harder. And as he chooses to strive harder he will win more victories, charging his emotional dynamo for making still greater effort, and so on.

Other Parents Err
Many other parents, because they are human like the rest of us, will say to a child who occasionally brings home a good school record, "Now why don't you always do that well?" If we exercised more sense and self-control, we would never let ourselves say such stupid things. We would not spoil the good effects of victory by reminding him of earlier defeats. But I should not scold you, mother, for I am very sure you have tried hard to help your boy.

You say he has trouble to learn to read. Suppose you read aloud to him a great deal. That will interest him in meaning rather than in mere words. If you have a type-writer, he would delight to copy a few words and short sentences from his primer; or write a few sentences of his own, you spelling for him as he writes. Also fasten on objects about the house on cardboard printed very large, the name of the object, as chair, table, door, and call his attention to it. Help him make a scrapbook of pictures cut from an old magazine. You print the name of the object or objects under each picture. Never help him read from a book unless you can keep wholly sweet and calm.

NEW CASTLE AND BUTLER READY FOR BATTLE

RIVALS PLAY HERE ON FRIDAY

Taggart Stadium Will Be Scene Of Second Football Game Of Year

Game Starts At 8 P. M.—Teams About Even In Weight Is Report

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team will play its second game of the 1936 season Friday night under the floodlights of Taggart Stadium, and Butler High School football team will be the opponents. The kickoff at 8 p. m. should find the stands well filled.

For the past several years Butler High has sent a rip-snorting good team here under the direction of Regis Heinzer. The game tomorrow night should be just as good if not better than the game last year, in which New Castle had a tough time in disposing of the Blue and Gold clad Butlerites. This year, with a 12 to 0 victory over Evans City High, the Soapmen will be confident of a good showing against their first major foe.

Expect Big Crowd
The Butler fans are loyal supporters and will follow the Heinzer team here for the express purpose of seeing the Butlers hand the "Canes" a trimming. The Butlers fans have been waiting many years to see this dream come true. It may happen in another 24 hours, who knows.

New Castle will enter the game against Butler, minus two regulars, Socrates Roussos, the big tackle, and Dudey Perrett, a halfback. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh may start Ryglinski and Mort on the first team tomorrow night. Mort gave the fans a few thrills last week with a couple of ice touchdowns. Big "Horse" Ryglinski has been waiting for his chance to break into the first team lineup.

Butler Heaviest
The weight of the New Castle team will suffer through the loss of Roussos and Perrett, as Mort goes a bare 144 and Ryglinski tips the beams at 182. Roussos weighs 190 and Perrett scaled 161 for the opening game.

Butler will bring a big heavy team here for the battle, with Captain Ball, the fullback, going 185; Bitters a halfback, hitting the scales for 165; Hughes, a tackle, going 200, and Gladis, another tackle, busting the scales at 215.

Officials Named
Both teams will add the final polish today and then sit back and rest until game time on Friday night. The entire west side of the field has been reserved for the hundreds of Butler fans who will follow the Heinzermen here. The gates will be open at 7 o'clock. Joe Replogle and his New Castle High band boys will be on hand, and Butler will probably bring its fine band here.

Athletic Director Ralph H. Gardner.

ner announced today that Earl Cavanaugh would referee the game. Davey Pawcett will handle the umpire job, and Ball will handle the linesman stick.

Union Has Three Open Dates On Football Card

Five W. P. I. A. L. Class B Schools Will Be Met By Unioners This Year

Faculty Manager of Athletics W. L. Burkhardt of Union high school today submitted the 1936 football schedule for the Union township school and it shows three open dates.

Union will open the season on Saturday at Ellwood City and will then be idle until Friday, October 9, when Mars high will play at the Union Field. Games are wanted with Class B schools for September 26 and October 2.

Five League Games
Union will play five W. P. I. A. L. Class B games this fall: Bessemer, Shenango, Mars, Zellenople, and Beaver. Two County league games will be played with Shenango and Bessemer.

Emmenton had a date on the 1936 card but cancelled the game recently. Emmenton was to have played at Union Field.

Three home games are billed this year: Mercer, Beaver and Mars. The games away will be Bessemer, Shenango, Zellenople and Ellwood City.

The schedule as announced by Mr. Burkhardt and Coach Davey Boyd:
Sept. 19—Ellwood City, away.
Sept. 26—Open.
Oct. 2—Open.
Oct. 9—Mars high, here.
Oct. 16—Bessemer, away.
Oct. 23—Zellenople, away.
Oct. 30—Beaver High, here.
Nov. 6—Shenango, away.
Nov. 13—Mercer, home.
Nov. 20—Open.

KEYSTONES CLAIM SOFTBALL TITLE

The Keystone A. C. Juniors by their co-managers, Frank Viggiano and Vinnie Gallagher, today submitted claim to the Class B softball league championship of New Castle, through the inability of the Shenango team to finish the Class B league schedule.

The Shenangos have a game yet to play with the Keys and if the Keys should win they could tie for the second half of the league season. If the Shenangos win, they will be the champs of both halves and will get a handsome trophy cup that is being donated by J. F. Perrellman to the Class B winners. An effort is going to be made to get the two teams together this coming Sunday for a game, and if the effort fails the Keystone will be declared the champions.

Giants-Pirates Split Two Games

Chicago Cubs Take Two From Boston And Gain Half Game On Giants

CARDINALS AND DODGERS SPLIT

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The National pennant race is running so true to expectations that it actually has ceased to be interesting. The Giants are not storming the pennant and their chief rivals are not tightening up the race, with the result that the standings among the top three clubs have been altered scarcely more than a game for weeks.

However, by the very nature of the race the Giants are moving nearer to the flag all the time. Their margin remains 4½ games over the Cards after yesterday's encounter.

Lefty Al Smith and Dick Coffman collaborated to give the Giants a 2 to 1 win over the Pirates in the opener of a double header, then the veteran Wate Hoyt pitched the Pirates to an even break in the nightcap, 4 to 3.

Cubs Gain
The Cards blew their first game with the Phillies, 7 to 3, then took the nightcap, 5 to 2, with Dizzy Dean finally going to the mound to make the victory possible.

The Cubs gained one game in winning a pair from the Bees, 3 to 2 and 4 to 2, with the Carleton and Lee hurling the wins. The latter allowed only five hits.

The Dodgers took a pair from the Reds, 7 to 4 and 10 to 2.

In the American League, the Indians required only six innings—before rain halted it—to pile up a 13 to 3 win over the Red Sox, Trosky had a perfect day at bat, hitting a homer among other things, and Zuber and Harber pitched the win.

In the only other game, the Tigers beat the Athletics, 6 to 2, with Aker hurling the victory.

New Entrance For Students

Owing to the confusion and jamming at the student gate at the north end of the stadium last Friday night, when over 2,000 students passed through the turnstiles, a new student gate has been opened for this week next to the old gate. The students are asked to take notice of the fact that there will now be two gates in which they can enter the field. The announcement was made by Ralph H. Gardner today.

Hero And Goat

(International News Service)
The Hero—Dick Coffman, who relieved Al Smith in ninth with tying and winning runs on base and retired side in order, fanning two. As Giants beat Pirates, 2 to 1.
The Goat—Hal Schumacher, who was given two runs in first inning, but couldn't hold it as Giants dropped nightcap to Pirates, 4 to 3.

College Football Doings In Brief

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—In a quandry over one terminal position, Pitt mentors today occupied themselves with the business of selecting a first team to open the season against Ohio Wesleyan on September 26. Paul Shaw, Bradford star, is reasonably sure of one end job but the other is a tossup between Frank Souchak and Bernie McNish, according to Head Coach Jock Sutherland.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—The injury "jinx" seemed to invade the Duquesne football squad today as three more varsity names were added to the non-active list. Jimmy Cassillo, quarterback, received a badly wrenched back in scrimmage. Regis Lhoest, guard, damaged his elbow, and Ray Seranagli, promising end, injured his leg.

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Sept. 17.—Beginning his ninth season as football coach at Waynesburg College, Frank Wolf today pointed to three distinctive features of his squad this season. He said: "Waynesburg will have one of the finest punters in the district in Arnold Koepke, one of the toughest schedules ever played by a Class B school (Duquesne, Fordham and West Virginia) and a player named Alger."

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Columbia's football team today continued its vigorous training schedule following a three-hour scrimmage against the Lafayette eleven. The Lions scored three touchdowns in impressive fashion.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 17.—With the opening game three weeks away, the Princeton football team was launched on a hard training schedule today. No less than 72 football aspirants reported to Coach Fritz Crisler.

LAKE SEBAGO, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Inclement weather today confined Mal Stevens' N. Y. U. football squad to a short outdoor practice session. Forced indoors, the team devoted time to a discussion of the new rules, preparation for an informal scrimmage against the Army eleven this Saturday.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 17.—A long scrimmage session was in store for the Wisconsin grid squad today. Workouts the past week indicate Peak and Stany will start at the ends for the varsity. Golemeske and Jensen at the tackles, O'Brien and Schulz at guards, Clauss at center, and Bellie, Misiak, Bellin and Barrett in the backfield.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Sept. 17.—

Union Set For Ellwood Game

Coach Dave Boyd Has Light And Fast Team At Union This Year

Union high school football team will be ready for the opening game at Ellwood City on Saturday, is the word today from Head Coach Dave Boyd. Union will have a light and fast eleven this season.

There are several veterans from the last year's team on hand, but the reserve material is going to be weak this year. Union lines up in practice as follows: King and Stickle at the ends, Captain Fulton and Sybolt at the tackles, Neal and Navarra at the guards, Annerella, job is being handled by Annerella. Wotowicz is calling them in the backfield and Joe Ostrosky and Jaskolka are holding down the first team halfback posts. The fullbacking is in the hands of Jim Patton.

Team Looks Good
In a scrimmage session last evening at the Union field the first team tore through the second team for nice gains. There is still a weakness on forward passing. Ostrosky and Jaskolka tore off many nice runs through the second team. Coach Boyd used the following men as the second team: Harry and Michaels at the tackles, Johns and Bentley at the guards, Sniezek and Burnsides at the ends, H. Harry at center, and the backfield was composed of McGrew, Clark, Gall and Moorehouse.

The kicking is being done by Wotowicz with Ostrosky and King being the pass combination. The boys handled themselves well in the workout. A little more effort to improve the blocking and tackling will be made by Boyd and his assistant, Jay Rudolph, in the next few days.

CHALLENGE ISSUED
The New Castle Dairy baseball team would like to play the winner of the junior title series between West Side Tigers and Wilmington Sluggers, a series, call 949-R-13, and ask for "Windy."

Joe Louis Has Sued Schmeling For Half Million

Claims German Libelled Him By Declaration Of Low Blow De-liberately

(International News Service)
POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 17.—Because of Max Schmeling's assertion in a recent magazine article that Joe Louis deliberately fouled him in their now historic June scrap, the Detroit Bomber and his co-managers, John Roxborough and Julian Black, announced today they had instituted suit for $500,000 against the German boxer, charging libel.

Additional suits for similar amounts have been started against the magazine in which the article was published, as well as its co-author, Paul Gallico, Roxborough and Black disclosed. Irving C. Molison, Chicago attorney, is representing the Detroit fighter and his managers.

"Eat Those Words."
"I'll make Schmeling eat those words," declared Louis, who is training here for his Philadelphia bout with Al Ettore, Tuesday night. "I never hit a man low in my life. My record will bear that out."

"His charges that I was told to hit him below the belt by my corner is nothing but bunk. In the first place, I never knew where I was much less what advice my seconds were giving me between rounds."

"We in Louis' corner had all we could do," said Black, "to try and bring Joe around without trying to advise him to do anything but be careful and hold until he got his bearings."

"Mal has gone too far. We all tried to be clean sportsmen when we might have won the fight on a foul ourselves in the fifth round when Schmeling all but flattened Joe with a right to the chin after the bell ended the round. But we didn't want to win any fights that way."

Schmeling Dumbfounded.
Berlin, Sept. 17.—A dumbfounded Max Schmeling, informed today that Joe Louis had sued him for $500,000 for libel, denied he accused the Brown Bomber of fouling him deliberately, and he said he intends to "do nothing" about the suit. Placing upon the author responsibility for the magazine articles which, according to the suit, quoted Schmeling as saying Louis intentionally fouled him, the heavyweight title runner-up said:

"Instead of saying Joe Louis fouled me, I always insisted that if he did, he was not responsible, because he had lost control of himself."

"This I stated on the day after the fight and I have not changed my opinion. In the same way, I have always said that I believed in Jim Braddock's illness, and that he was not fit to fight this fall."

Burns Suffered In Gasoline Blast Fatal To Tom McGannon, Veteran Halfback

(International News Service)
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 17.—Tom McGannon, of Evansville, veteran Purdue University halfback, died here today from burns received in a gasoline explosion in a shower room, Saturday. Death came to the football star as his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McGannon, three brothers and a sister, prayed at his bedside. A pall spread over Purdue University campus as word flashed from the hospital that McGannon had lost his last great fight. Loss of blood from hemorrhages, toxemia and shock, were the causes of his death, physicians said. In death he followed Carl Dahlbeck, a teammate, who was burned in the explosion. Dahlbeck died Sunday.

Rough Matmen To Meet Monday

Grandovitch-Getz Heavyweight Bout Not Pink Tea Bout

Leon Grandovitch, the rough boy from Russia may meet his match in Al Getz the tough lad from Germany, according to promoters of the wrestling exhibitions at the Arena Gardens, Neshannock avenue.

The heavyweights have been mated for a bout next Monday night and judging from their actions last Monday night they are not adverse to "heeling" and "punching."

In fact not so many shows in the past one of the wrestlers went back to the days of gouging. The referee did not take the act seriously but warned the offender to cease using his fingers as picks. Promoter Peter Askounes proposes to try and bring Everett Marshall, world's heavyweight wrestler again to the city and should the Monday night bout be good and the winner win decisively he may be slated as Marshall's opponent.

Heavy Favorites On Coast
Will Have Smart Veteran
Teams This Year

By HAROLD HEROUX
International News Service Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—There is a general feeling in Pacific Coast football circles today that "Tiny" Thornhill of Stanford University will not lead his famed Indians into the Pasadena Rose Bowl next New Year's day for the fourth successive year as the west's No. 1 team.

The reason is obvious. Stanford lost sixteen of its twenty-three lettermen of last season, including such outstanding aces as Bobby Grayson, Monk Moscrip, Bob Reynolds, Bones Hamilton and Wes Muller.

Who will be the new champion? Many fine teams

Of course, the answer cannot be supplied definitely until late November. However, an early season survey finds the chances of the rival eleven groups in this manner:

1. Washington, California.
2. St. Mary's, Southern California, Stanford.
3. Oregon, Washington State, U. C. L. A., Santa Clara.
4. Oregon State, Loyola (Los Angeles), Montana, University of San Francisco, Idaho, Gonzaga.
5. College F of the Pacific, Nevada; Fresno State (and the rest of the field.)

Veteran Teams
The two eleven placed on top of the dope heap—Washington's huskies, coached by Jimmy Phelan, and California's Golden Bears, tutored by "Stub" Allison—are smart, veteran teams.

On Sept. 26 Washington will battle Minnesota, last year's leading eleven of the nation, at Seattle in an early season intercollegiate "gigantic" that will settle the fate of either the huskies or Gophers in their quest for 1936's top honors. Phelan doesn't like to be listed as a top favorite. Last season, his huskies were among the early season's prime favorites but they finished the year with three conference defeats. Phelan, former Purdue coach, says he hopes that history doesn't repeat itself.

All-Americans
Washington's backfield will be led by two potential All-Americans, Haines and Cain.

Allison, at California, likewise has two possible All-Americans in his line-up, Blower, triple-threat halfback, and Herwig, the powerful center.

At the Stanford "farm," Thornhill is building a new eleven around Paulman, long-distance kicker, and Coffis, speedy halfback. He contends that Stanford will be a "tough team to beat" this fall despite its loss of All-American and All-Coast stars.

"Don't bet a single nickel that there'll be a new champion," Thornhill advises his friends. "My boys are good and we may go to Pasadena again."

Edward P. ("Slip") Madigan and his galloping gals of St. Mary's college will make a determined bid for national honors by playing three intercollegiate games—against Fordham, in New York; against Marquette, at Chicago, and Temple here.

Madigan's team, "three deep" in every position with excellent players, is able to give any team in the nation a battle.

Watch Trojans
Los Angeles reports this is the year of the "great comeback" of Howard Jones and his Trojans of Southern California, former rulers of all they survived on the coast.

If Jones doesn't prove that his three-year "material famine" is ended, the U. C. L. A. Bruins will strongly assert themselves, it is indicated. Bill Spaulding's Bruins, once the "baby" of the conference, finished last season in a triple tie with Stanford and California for the conference title.

U. C. L. A. is listed with Oregon and Washington State as "dark horses" in the conference race. Outside the conference, the Santa Clara Broncos rank next to St. Mary's as the most dangerous "independent" foe on the coast.

Probability of a Firemen-Tin Mill series apparently went glimmering Wednesday when it was announced by Jim Martin, manager of Bessemer, that a county championship series of five games would be played with the Fire ladders of the Sixth Ward. However, in this connection, permit it to be said that Johnny Lewis, manager of the Tin Mill team wrote the writer yesterday stating that Manager Alex Black and the Tin Mill team has no alibis for their loss to Bessemer and relative to the Firemen declared the only way they would engage in a series with the Firemen would be on a winner-take-all basis which shows that Lewis and Black, despite defeat by Bessemer, believe they can beat the Firemen.

And now that the Bessemer-Firemen series is scheduled to start at Bessemer, Saturday, the fans will be looking forward to the game. There is no doubt but that the Firemen have been playing good baseball for two years, possess a great following and will enter into the series with plenty of confidence. Ever since the team was organized they had an idea that they and not the Lawrence county loop teams, was the class of baseball. They beat the Tin Mill twice last year and if they win from Bessemer they will win the county championship.

Peter Askounes, wrestling promoter, announced this morning he had arranged for three additional bouts to the Getz-Grandovich bout Monday night. World's record featured the races at Reading yesterday as Peinero, driven by Harry Whitney, won the Fair Futurity for three-year-old trotters. Peinero stepped the first heat in 2:05 3/4, a new world's mark for three-year-olds, over the "twice arounds". Invader held the former record of 2:05 3/4, made at Middletown, N. Y., in 1932. Inspector won two of the three heats in the 2:17 pace in 2:06 1/4 and Laughing Brooks took two heats in the 2:18 trot in 2:08.

Edmund Wicht, secretary of the P. I. A. A., disclosed at Harrisburg yesterday that insurance, covering injury to football players on the gridiron is being considered for Pennsylvania's high school athletes. This will be one of the major issues.

discussed when the athletic association's board of control meets at Harrisburg September 27-28. Wicht said a rough draft patterned after football insurance carried in the Wisconsin schools is in the hands of attorneys and will be presented to the committee of the 12 districts.

Whether football is a private business or a part of the educational program was argued at Atlanta, Ga., by attorneys Wednesday in a suit of the university system of Georgia to enjoin the federal government from collecting taxes on athletic admissions. Government attorneys sought to show Georgia Tech and Georgia university were operating a business apart from other activities of the school. Counsel for the university system contended athletic association were a part of the state institutions and entitled to exemption from taxation.

Special Prosecutor For Uniontown Case Will Be Appointed

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 17.—Prosecution of what may develop into one of the commonwealth's most serious police "scandals"—the alleged third degree murder death of Frank C. Monaghan, 66 year-old former hotelman—today awaited the appointment of a special prosecutor. The prosecutor is to be named by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti in response to the requests of President Judge Thomas H. Hudson, of the Fayette county court, and District Attorney James A. Reilly. It was learned Judge Hudson mailed the request to Margiotti with the notation for the attorney general to announce the appointment at his "earliest convenience."

Meanwhile, it was reported here that Attorney E. J. McDaniel, Republican county chairman, had withdrawn suddenly as counsel for the two state troopers now at Liberty under bond in connection with the case, Stacey Gundersman and Anthony Sanute. Also charged in connection with the alleged beating is County Detective Wilbert "Patsy" Miner. All three were released under blanket bail of $20,000.

Asks Outside Prosecutor
Reilly asked Judge Hudson to name an "outside investigator" because, he said, he had not the legal authority to press the investigation. It was rumored in some quarters the prosecutor had already been considered and appointed, but nothing official was forth-coming.

Coroner S. A. Baltz, who filed the murder charges against the three police officers following an autopsy which he said revealed the elderly hotelkeeper died of a vicious beating and not of a heart attack, as first reported, said today he will not hold the inquest until the special prosecutor is named.

Monaghan was taken into custody Saturday morning for allegedly slandering Chief of County Detectives John C. Wall, now recovering in a hospital. He died while being questioned, and authorities announced he succumbed to a heart attack brought on by acute alcoholism.

One of the prime movers in the demands for a searching investigation, with first degree murder indictments to be returned against the policemen should evidence warrant it, Dr. Frank C. Monaghan, Jr., professor at Yale University, who flew here soon after his father's death.

Youngstown Gas Station Robbed

Methods Similar To Those Used In Robbery At Volant Bank, Monday

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 17.—Two young masked gunmen, at first believed to be two of a trio who escaped from county jail here last Wednesday, forced Robert Kury, filling station attendant, into another room and escaped with $70 late Wednesday.

Kury was seated at a desk in the station when the men entered. "This is a stickup," they told him and pushed him into the adjoining room before rifling the cash register. They escaped in a coupe parked near by.

The robbers' method of operation and description of the getaway car tallied with those used in the $5,000 robbery of the First National Bank at Volant, Pa., Tuesday, in which the robbers were partially identified from pictures by the bank cashier as Frank Bydo, 21, and Ed Kolb, 19, who sawed their way out of the jail here.

Kury's estimate of the robbers' ages tallied but he described his assailants as being taller and heavier than the suspected men.

Board To Seek More Frequent Tax Settlements

Will Ask For More Than Semi-Yearly Delinquent Tax Payments

Because of County Treasurer Joseph Hartland's stated intention of turning over to the school board delinquent taxes due it every six months only, School Board Solicitor William J. Moffatt, will take the matter up with Hartland in an effort to get prompter settlements.

The semi-yearly settlement by the county treasurer was made known to the school board Wednesday night when City Treasurer C. C. McKibben was asked what money he was getting from the county treasurer.

"I understand the county treasurer is going to settle with us only every six months," said J. H. McKibben. "That is correct," said McKibben. "In a letter to me he said he was too busy to settle every three months. He has quite a sum of delinquent tax money due us now."

"That doesn't seem right," said Duff. "It seems to me he should settle oftener than every six months."

Said Hazen, "We know of $13,000 he has and the probabilities are that the sum is nearer $25,000."

Solicitor Moffatt was instructed to see Hartland and try and arrange oftener settlements than twice a year.

Bean Shooting And Bottle Tossing Must Be Halted

School Board Acts On Complaint About Conduct At Taggart Stadium

Bean shooters and bottle tossers at Taggart stadium are going to be prosecuted in the future. At a meeting of the school board on Wednesday night the matter was called to the attention of the school board by Director W. D. Cleland who said that somebody might have an eye put out if the students continued their bean shooting activities.

Several of the members of the board commented upon the practice of tossing bottles down and said that the difficulty was usually in the students' section.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent, was instructed to bring the matter to the attention of the students in a forcible manner. The board also instructed the solicitor, Attorney William J. Moffatt to secure police authority for six additional school employees. Badges will be given them and some of them will sit in the students' section.

Jury Recommends Boyles Property

Would Have It Purchased For County If It Can Be Done At Reasonable Price

In presentments by the grand jury to court Wednesday afternoon it was recommended that the Boyles property be purchased for county purposes, provided that it can be bought at a reasonable price. Several juries have made a similar recommendation, but so far no negotiations have been started.

The Boyles property adjoins the court house property. It has been argued that the residence could be remodeled and made to house the district attorney, county superintendent of schools, judges and other officials for whom the rent of offices is now being paid by the county.

There are some who believe that it would be cheaper for the county to erect a wing on the north side of the court house at the west end of the building. No prices have been named at which the Boyles property could be purchased, and until there is it is not likely that there will be any move made by the county commissioners.

The grand jury reported that thirty-five bills had been considered, of which thirty-two were found true bills and three not true bills. The jurors were complimented by the court for their promptness in disposing of the case presented by District Attorney Mont L. Alley.
